Adding additional schools to a user

Clara Hardarsson - 2026-11-07 - Manage users

As an organisation administrator, you can connect multiple schools to a user directly from Skolon's admin tool. This is a useful feature, for example, if a school administrator needs to manage more schools than their primary school, if a teacher teaches at multiple schools, or if students attend classes at more than one school.

The user can now switch between their schools in My Apps. If the user has administrator rights, they can also switch between schools within the admin tool.

Please note that new school connections are not affected by synchronization from student registries or source data systems. However, if you delete a school connection created via synchronization, that connection will be restored the following day. Therefore, school connections originating from a sync must be removed from the student registry or source data system that syncs to Skolon.
